Dyer, IN (PRWEB) May 27, 2009 -- Dr. Atcha has been placing and restoring dental implants for over 5 years and has been requested to become a Board of Director of the prestigious American Dental Implant Association. American Dental Implant Association (ADIA) was founded by Dr. Arun K. Garg, founder of Implant Seminars, the world's largest provider of dental implant continuing advanced education. Dr. Garg created the American Dental Implant Association in response to overwhelming requests for more credentialing and credibility by establishing recognition models.

The American Dental Implant Association aggressively promotes collegiality, friendship, and practice growth. "This is the top forum for an exchange of a vast amount of niche information through annual symposiums of like-minded individuals to receive the latest information in the dental implant field, in a familiar, supportive community. Our main goal is to better serve our affiliate of well-trained clinicians, like Dr. Irfan Atcha," said Dr. Garg. There was an annual symposium from April 23 through April 25 this year at The Miami Implant Update.

The American Dental Implant Association's Executive Director Fiorella Samaniego said "Each clinician may obtain the fellowship, mastership and diplomat status provided they meet the requirements for continuing education (CE) hours and pass a written examination". Scheduling for exams is vital, so awards can be given in a timely manner at the ceremonies, the first one being held at the annual symposium in April 24, 2009 in Miami, FL. "Dr. Atcha has exhibited excellent patient care in the cases that have been submitted for approval by the Board of the ADIA to become a Diplomat of the ADIA. His dental implant techniques, bone grafting, and soft tissue management have shown us that he is the type of clinician that the ADIA wants in its fold." Dr. Atcha is also a Diplomat of the International Congress of Oral Implantologist (ICOI).

The American Dental Implant Association will also become an embedded feature of the scholarly publishing landscape. Members receive an academic journal on dental implantology and those who demonstrate a genuine interest in establishing credibility through journal publishing and wish to contribute to the upcoming American Dental Implant Association publication are also welcome. Dr. Irfan Atcha will be contributing to the ADIA Journal regularly, and presenting many of the dental implant cases that he has completed.

"Credentialing and credibility go hand-in-hand," said Dr. Garg. "We will offer our members myriad of ways to advance themselves and their careers. Dr. Irfan Atcha has exhibited the kind of dentistry that qualifies admission into the American Dental Implant Association." The ADIA has its next meeting scheduled next week at the Miami Implant Update which runs from April 23-25, 2010. Dr. Atcha was invited to participate and present his most challenging implant cases on Friday, April 24, 2009.

Dr. Atcha was honored to be invited stating, "It is a privilege to have earned the respect of the finest dental surgeons, implantologists, dentists, and scholars in our field. It's even more exciting to see the progress and advances that have become available to my patients that were unheard of 10 years ago. It is an amazing service for my patients, and I am looking forward to getting involved with the ADIA."
